

BORG MARAGLIANO

PIEDMONT

The Galliano family has a long history with their roots established in Loazzolo over five generations. Today Borgo Maragliano is a family estate, which means that all the family is involved in the success and work of the winery. Giuseppe takes care of the vineyards, while Carlo is our oenologist and works mainly in the vinification department. Carlo and Sylvia, with the invaluable support of Giuseppe and Germana, manage 21 hectares of vineyards, whose produce is vinified and bottled in our cellars in Loazzolo.

Borgo Maragliano is situated at 450 meters above sea level, on a natural terrace of the Langhe hills, in the heart of Loazzolo. It is a very special place for growing grapes, crossed by the Marin, an onshore wind coming from the Mar Ligure which favors the maturation of the grapes, enhancing their aromas and fragrances.

The land around Loazzolo is characteristic in its geological formation, with typical marls and sandstones. Borgo Maragliano includes an area of 15 hectares of vineyards. The wines are obtained from grapes of Moscato, Chardonnay and Pinot Noir as the result of careful and meticulous labor. The wine is vinified, bottled and packed by the members of the Galliano family, who maintain a great respect for the traditions of the vineyards, but at the same time make use of the most modern vinification techniques and methods with new and efficient equipment.

Congratulations to Carlo & Sylvia!
